The story starts with a sparkling book made personally by each bright young artist. Students will learn the art of papermaking, and turn pages into a sparkling treasure filled with a magical tale. Characters will come to life in large and small sizes. Paper pulp is also used to design a creative scene from the story, as well as various clays to sculpt characters, (wizards if you like) magical wands with gem stones, and animal companions. This class encompasses art making with imagination and wonder. You will be amazed by the end result of not only the books, but also the art that goes along with each story. Plenty of room for personalized themes.

A class incorporating art history with a flair for creativity. Class will begin by learning about the cave paintings at Lascaux France and create some primitive imagery. As we travel through history Mesopotamia will be inspiration for tessellations. The second part of the class will incorporate drawing lessons to enhance artistic abilities and each student will choose a personal theme for a canvas painting. This class is a must for anyone wishing to enhance their personal artistic skills and creativity, as well as being surrounded by others who share the same desire of artistic expression. Drawing books will be provided and the themes will be tailored to each student's interests.
